Photos

Our list of all types of signed pictures, photographs, post-cards, magazines, etc. They are divided up by sport or other area of fame, and it should be pretty much self-explanatory. The name of the celebrity is given in alphabetical order, then the size of the signed item is given, then the year the item is believed to have been produced. A short description of the photo is then given. If the word "photo" is given, it is some kind of mass-produced print, etc., but when it says "photograph" it is actually on photographic paper, some being original snapshots. For professional athletes, the team with which the player appears with is also given. If an item has a city listed in the description, but no (ml) it means the player has major league experience, but at the time of the photograph, the player was playing with that minor league team.. Whenever it is a xeroxed item, the date given is when it was actually signed. All players have played professionally in the sport designated unless a (COLL.) appears to the left of the team. If an * appears in place of the team name, it means the player does not appear in game uniform. If a * appears just right of the name, in all categories, it means that player is deceased.

All items in this catalog are guaranteed authentic (unless otherwise notes). Exception: An # to the right of the celebrity name signifies that the item is suspected of being a pre-print, secretarial, stamped, or auto-penned signature. A double ## means it definitely is a known non-authentic signature.

Please remember, our total inventory is expanding ...daily... so this catalog may be considered outdated over time.

3"x5" Index Cards:

Below is a list of our signed 3"x5" index file cards. The name of each "signer" is given, along with any other information that is needed such as a personalization, which is a "p" in the catalog, and the rookie year in major league baseball. Also, the Minor League section is divided into two subsections. The first one is for older minor-league players (1970s and before), and more current players (1970 to date).

Small "cut" signatures are listed at end

Trading Cards:

The following is a complete listing of our autographed sport and other trading cards. The year, company name, player name, and the card number are given for your convenience. When a "Re" appears, it signifies that the particular card is of a reprinted issue. A "p" denotes that the signature affixed to the card is personalized to me or to some other person. And, finally, a " (quote) shows that the item characteristic, any category, is the same as the one above.

*Please note... nearly 85% of all minor-league cards in inventory are of players with Major League experience!

Letters:

The following is a list of our notes and letters, etc., from ballplayers, politicians, and all other notables. Categories are given for each individual sport, etc., with the notables listed in alphabetical order. The name is given, along with the approximate size, number of words, and a note telling if it is signed by the notable, or personalized to any particular person. Information is also provided telling if it is typed, a printed survey, or if the notable signed his name in any abbreviated or different way. Most of these letters give information on careers, personal insights, and response to other individual questions of this type.

Most contain very historical and interesting content .

Doubles:

The following is a list of our "double" or multiple items of those which are found elsewhere in this inventory catalog. Complete descriptions are not included... please call for more descriptions. All photo descriptions may be found in photos section. This pertains to all other categories also. The number in parenthesis denotes how many signatures total of that name in the doubles collection.
